

*"I dreamed I died and went to Atlanta."
former New Yorker*

Come to Atlanta for the Fourth Annual

Preserving the American Dream Conference

September 15-17, 2006

- Reducing Traffic Congestion
- Tour of Atlanta

- Deregulating Land Uses
- Planning Atlanta's future

Speakers

- Robert Bruegmann, author of Sprawl: A Compact History
- James Dunn, author of Driving Forces: The Auto, Its Enemies, and the Politics of Mobility
- Steven Greenhut, author of Abuse of Power: How Government Misuses Eminent Domain
- Plus at least three dozen more!

Workshops

- Reforming public transit
- Restoring housing affordability
- What's wrong with traffic calming
- New ways to reduce traffic congestion
- Eminent domain and tax-increment financing
- Honing grassroots activist skills
- Plus many more

Complete agenda and registration information can be found at americandreamcoalition.org.

Inept government programs are making housing unaffordable and worsening traffic congestion. Learn how to protect your community by attending this conference featuring dozens of the nation's experts on land-use and transportation issues.

"One of the four best conferences I've ever attended."

John Fund, Wall Street Journal

Georgia
Public Policy
Foundation

Freedom, Mobility, and Affordable Homeownership

The Fourth Annual Preserving the American Dream conference is cosponsored by the Georgia Public Policy Foundation, the American Dream Coalition, and a variety of other organizations. For a complete list, see americandreamcoalition.org.